8:30AM Registration & Check-In
9:00AM Opening Remarks

9:30AM – 10:30AM
1st Keynote Session: Leading Inclusively: Transformative Change Across the Globe

Dr. Agnes Binagwaho, Former Minister of Health for Rwanda & Vice Chancellor of the University for Global Health Equity, will set the stage by sharing her transformative leadership experiences in conversation with Author and CoFounder of TEDWomen, Pat Mitchell.

10:45AM – 11:45AM
Panel Session: Transforming Organizations

Business organizations are instrumental in reshaping the world of work. Three leaders from nationally recognized companies -- Michelle Gadsden Williams (BlackRock), Sue Lam (Coca-Cola), and Bentina Terry (Georgia Power) -- will discuss through personal experiences how to create inclusive professional environments and transformative change. Moderated by the President of the World Affairs Council of Atlanta, Rickey Bevington.

11:45AM Lunch

12:45PM – 1:45PM
2nd Keynote Session: Women as Change Agents

Time and again, women’s leadership has been shown to be the crucial factor in improving lives, whether in education, economic development, or health. Director of International & Immigrant Affairs for the City of Atlanta, Vanessa Ibarra joins Paige Alexander, CEO of the Carter Center, to share how their leadership role in a public, non-profit organization can effect change in domestic and international arenas.
BlackRock is a global investment manager dedicated to helping more and more people experience financial well-being. The work we do for our clients moves markets, builds economies and supports millions of people around the globe as they save for their children’s educations, home ownership or retirement.

To best serve our clients and meet their diverse needs around the world, we must bring forward an equally diverse range of perspectives and talent. It's why we’re dedicated to creating an environment where our people feel welcomed, valued and supported with development opportunities, benefits and networks to help them thrive.

Explore opportunities at careers.blackrock.com.

Stay connected @BlackRock
Global solutions require local action. For leadership to be effective, it takes leaders who have the courage to tackle issues seen in their own community. Gabrielle Claiborne, Soumaya Khalifa, and Dr. Gulshan Harjee will share their inspiring stories and enable attendees to connect with the initiatives spearheaded by these leaders. Moderated by Assistant Dean for Inclusive Leadership Curriculum, Dr. Heather Scott.

3:30PM - 4:30PM

Closing Session & Call to Action: Mobilizing Minds and Connecting People

Leadership is about mobilizing minds and connecting people for action. In the concluding keynote session, Ed Bastian, CEO of Delta Air Lines, and Leocadia I. Zak, President of Agnes Scott College, will discuss inclusive leadership and share productive examples of partnerships between industry and education.

4:30PM - 5:00PM

Talk Back with Panel Two: Building Inclusive Leadership from the Ground Up

THANKS TO OUR SPONSORS:

- BlackRock
  - Our presenting sponsor
- Georgia Power
  - Our silver sponsor
- TRUIST
  - Our bronze sponsor
- SAGE
  - Our media sponsor

This year’s conference has been made possible thanks to generous contributions from the following supporters:

- The James T. and Ella Rather Kirk Fund
- Wilson Fund for Political Science and Social Science Research
- Margaret VanDeman Blackmon ’63 Fund for Women’s Leadership
- Mildred Rutherford Mell Lecture Fund
- Nancy P. Groseclose Visiting Scholars Fund
- Nelle Chamlee Howard Fund
- Bertha (B) Merrill Holt ’38 and W. Clary Holt Leadership Lecture Series
- Addie J. Bowden Endowment Fund for Women’s Leadership

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13

2:00PM - 3:15PM

Panel Session: Building Inclusivity from the Ground Up